To whom it may concern:

Martin Kraemer, who is vying for the high office of District Commander, is beyond qualified for that position.

For the past year, Marty has served as Squadron 310 Commander and Adjutant; he has excelled in both those jobs in every way possible.

Always ready and willing to help, he has assumed several rolls that make him indispensable. Marty runs the weekly fish-fry for the Post, graciously volunteers to prep/cook the monthly breakfast for the Auxiliary and thinks nothing of grabbing a hammer and nails to fix something in repair. Under Marty's leadership and perseverance, his membership numbers are stellar and already exceed 100 per cent.

Marty is a stickler for details and organization. As a result, he is always apart of Post planning and is an integral part of nearly every endeavor Post 310 undertakes. Besides, his own SAL meetings, he attends the Post general meeting held each month, providing valid input for all open discussions.

Since becoming District 9 Chaplain, he has further demonstrated his organizational skills and his determination to carry-on for the good of the Legion. He assisted in every single District and Detachment 9 installation this year, all the while serving as ex-officio Chaplain of Post 310. Most recently, Marty spearheaded Post 310's relief effort in the wake of Hurricane Ian. He achieved this goal by asking members for monetary donations, clothing, and household products, that filled numerous boxes, in which he hand delivered to the drop off location.

For these reasons and others too numerous to mention, Martin Kraemer would, in my opinion, make a great District Commander and he has my wholehearted support.

Respectfully submitted,
